CLASS HISTORY

We, the dignified and typically green freshmen, found ourselves seated in the first two rows of the assembly. Ralph Laux, Norbert Minnich, Bernard Post, and Eugene Reinhart joined us from Wabash Township. Melba Hethcote left us to go to Huntington. Mr. Wayne Haffner was our class sponsor. Our class officers were: president, Imogene Macklin; vice president, Leon Garlinger; secretary, Jo Ann Spencer; treasurer, Norma Jean Keller.

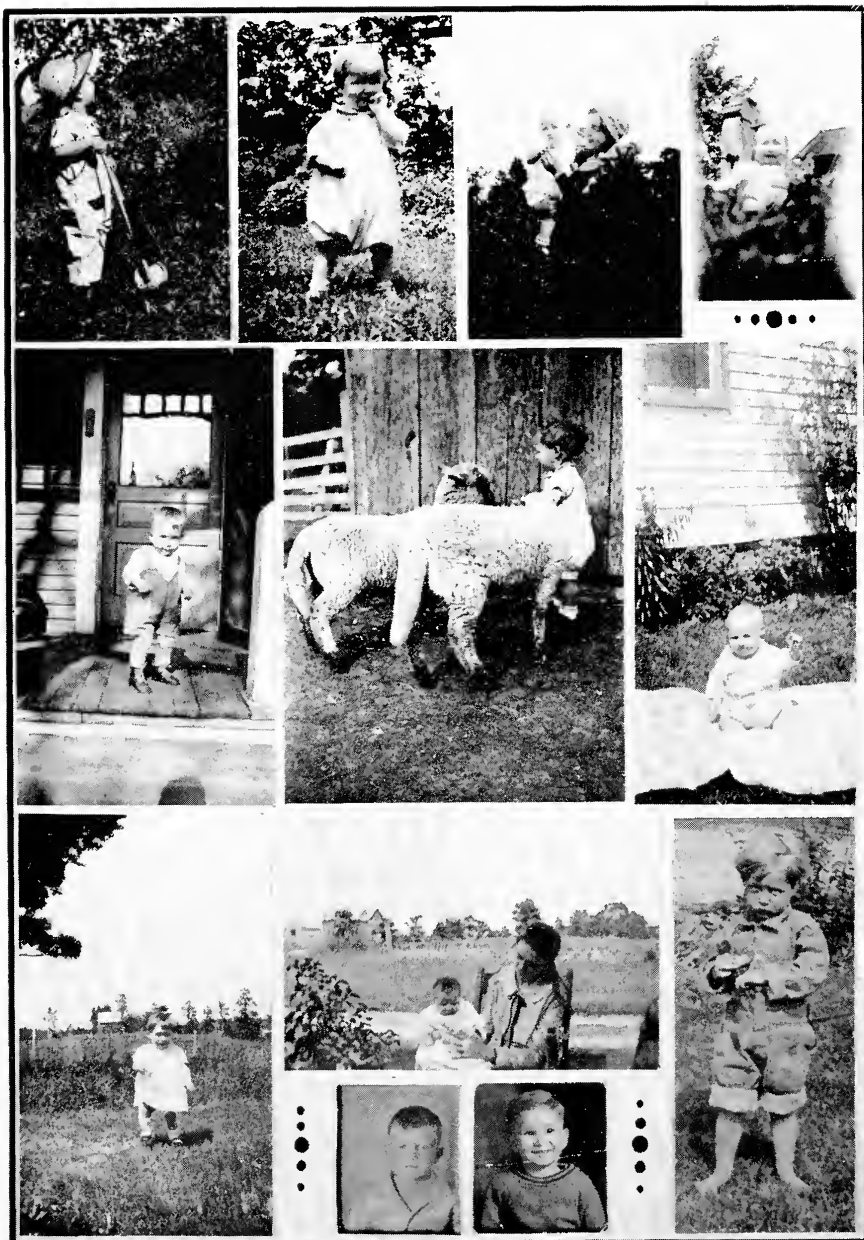

We came back the next fall to find ourselves advanced a few rows over in the assembly. We lost Naomi Manning. Imogene Macklin, Bill Fifer, and Eugene Reinhart. Arthur came back after a year's vacation. Pauline Huey represented our class in the Queen Contest. Our class officers were: president, Norma Jean Keller; vice president, Norman Campbell; secretary and treasurer, Leon Garlinger.

At last! We made the goal and, too, our rightful place as upperclassmen. Jo Ann Spencer and Helen Haviland left us with only fifteen remaining in our class. Arthur Huey left us in January to join "Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces." Norma Jean Keller represented us in the Queen Contest. We presented our Junior class play "The Campbells Are Coming," which proved to be a big hit!! The proceeds of the play financed the Junior-Senior Reception. Mr. Deaton was our class sponsor. Our class officers were: president, Ray Anderson; vice president, Pauline Huey; secretary and treasurer, Norman Campbell.

Seniors!! We came back to school confident that we would come out victorious. Only twelve of us returned to school with determination that we would come out as alumni. Norman Campbell and Bob Bergman left us to join the Navy. Pauline Huey represented our class in the Queen Contest. We gave another very successful play "Grandpa's Twin Sister." Mr. Deaton was our class sponsor.

We have had our good times and feuds, but leave you with a cheery smile, a wave of the hand, and with our minds full of memories that will never be forgotten.

Class Motto: Build for character, not for fame.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of '46, will the Juniors our seats by the windows we didn't get.

We, the Seniors, will to the Sophomores our ability to get along with the teachers.

We, the Seniors, will to the green Freshmen our good behavior.

I, Ray Anderson, will the honor of being a preacher's son to James Monroe.

I, Leon Garlinger, will my ability to stay home from school to go fox hunting to Bruce Poling.

I, Velma Jean Houser, will nothing because I need all I have.

I, Pauline Huey, will my mischievous ways to Beatrice Minnich.

I, Norma Jean Keller, will my ability to stay home at night to Velma Rittenhouse.

I, Ralph Laux, will my dark wavy hair to Joan Mumby.

I, Raymond Milligan, will my ability to ride a motor cycle to Mary Ashcraft.

I, Norbert Minnich, will my interest in a certain blonde to my little brother, Eugene.

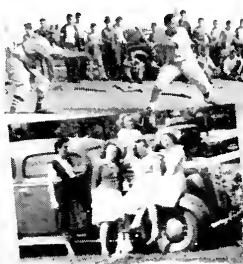

I, Lois Poling, will my ability to teach the fifth and sixth grade to Norman Tullis.

I, Bernard Post, will my ability to get in by 8:30 to Keith Stein.

I, Bill Stroube, will my interest in the freshmen girls to Glen Theurer.

I, Donna Uptygraft, will my ability to play marbles to the basketball team.

Class Colors—Black and Gold.

CLASS PROPHECY

The voice of Prophecy has thus decreed: The Senior Class of '46 hereby to be destined to a treasure of surprise for the future.

Having closed my winter season in England as a world-known lecturer and boarding the Queen Elizabeth for America, whom should I, Lois Poling, meet but one of my old classmates from Bryant High, Ray Anderson. Ray had been sent to England as an ambassador of foreign relations.

As we talked over our experiences in Bryant High School, he informed me that he had met Leon Garlinger, who was now a stiff-collared English professor in an exclusive college in New York City.

As I left Union Station after arriving in Chicago, I decided I would visit the famous music shop located in the center of the city of Chicago known for its unique instruments since it was managed by my good friend Velma Jean Houser.

We decided to eat our lunch in a little restaurant down the street. Upon picking up a newspaper my attention was drawn to the headlines which read, "A New Discovery Revealed in Atomic Energy." As I read on I found the scientist responsible for this great discovery was none other than our classmate in Bryant High, Bernard Post, better known to the world as Dr. Atombreaker.

When it came time for me to leave Chicago Velma Jean told me to be sure to visit the famous Chicken Tract's Art School in Denver, Colorado, in which Pauline Huey was now acting as an instructor.

Pauline was very glad to see me and said she had recently seen Norma Jean Keller who was still recovering from a nervous breakdown as a result of being overworked in high school.

I was greeted by a slim young man in Los Angeles after speaking there. He shook hands with me and it was quite some time before I recognized him. It was Raymond Milligan. He said he was soon to leave for China as a newspaper correspondent. He informed me that the night before he had enjoyed a most inspiring concert conducted by Dr. Norbert Minnich, conductor of the famous Barnyard Symphony Orchestra appearing over NBC network.

I decided I would go to Texas to visit one of my old classmates who was now living with her husband, Charles Fifer, on a sheep ranch. Donna had aged some but was still the same girl I had known before.

For some reason I had a great desire to visit my old home town once again so I planned to go straight to Indiana. To my astonishment as I entered Bryant, I found an airport located in the center of town. It was owned jointly by Bill Stroube and Ralph Laux. When I finally got to talk them they said they were training students of Bryant High School.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Ray Anderson not flirting with the eighth grade girls?
Leon Garringer not having tire trouble?
Velma Jean Houser not talking to Raymond Milligan?
Pauline Huey not flirting with the truck drivers?
Norma Jean Keller not blushing?
Ralph Laux getting to school on Monday?
Raymond Milligan keeping busy the fourth period?
Norbert Minnich playing cards with someone besides Joan Myers?
Lois Poling not studying?
Bernard Post getting in bed after eight o'clock?
Bill Stroube not talking to Trudy?
Donna Uptygraft wearing dresses below her knees?

Mr. Tucker: "Were you tardy this morning, Bill?"
Bill Dale: "No, school just took up before I got here."

Mr. Deaton: Listen, Loy, you can't sleep in my class!
Loy: "I guess you're right, but I could if you didn't talk so loud."

Mrs. Butt: "Has your wife changed very much since you married her?"
Mr. Spahr: "Yes, my habits, my friends, and my hours."

Miss Davis: "Now then class, what is the reward of the righteous?"
Marion Logan: "Eternal Bliss."
Miss Davis: "Correct, and what is the reward of the wicked?"
Marion: "Eternal blisters."

Mr. Schramm: "What is the home of the swallow?"
Norman Tullis: "The home of the swallow is the stomach."

Mrs. Ketchum: "Do you know that I began life as a barefoot girl?"
Joan Montgomery: "I wasn't born with shoes on either."

CLASS POEM

In this rhyme I'll take time
To introduce to you
The Senior class of '46
And tell you who is who.

Ray Anderson, I want you to meet
You'll find him in the first seat.
I'm certain you'll say he's a pal,
Obviously to a pretty gal.

Leon Garlinger, there's a bright chap
Hardly ever wears a cap.
Never seems to be much bored,
Riding around in his Ford.

Velma Jean Houser is a good sport.
We just call her Jean for short.
With her smile and winning way,
You're sure to like her I should say.

Here's a girl you ought to know,
Almost always on the go.
Pauline Huey, the senior queen,
Often mischievous but not really mean.

Norman Jean Keller, secretary of our class
She's a slim and blushing lass
Does her school work very well,
We all think that she is swell.

Ralph Laux comes next in line
Just in time to make this rhyme
In his sports he takes great pride,
Likes to be on the winning side.

Raymond Milligan enjoys reading,
On mystery books you'll see him feeding.
He's catcher on our baseball team.
When batting he is "on the beam."

Norbert Minnich, a farmer lad,
As a Scotchman is not bad.
In the senior play that was his part,
He did well from the very start.

Bernard Post, stooge to the basketball boys,
In his school life finds many joys
If you'd observe I'm sure you'd say
He uses good manners every day.

I see Bill Stroube is here today.
Basketball he loves to play
Helps to boost that score up high
To make a basket he'll surely try.

Donna Uptygraft, tall and blonde,
Of a lad in service she is fond.
Often talks of Business College,
There she hopes to gain more knowledge.

Art and Bob and Norman, as soldiers brave,
Must not be forgotten in that which they gave,
To make the world a better place.
In this rhyme we are proud to give them space.

Last of all at the end of these lines,
A place for her name Lois Poling finds,
She hopes to profit by what she has learned,
When her steps from good old B. H. S. have turned.

SENIOR PLAY OF 1946

Coming back to school as Seniors, we were faced with the problem of producing our second class play. After much consideration and debating we chose "Grandpa's Twin Sister." As Friday, December 7, 1945, drew near we were confident our play would be a big success.

When Widow Williams (Velma Jean Houser) tries to propose to Grandpa (Bernard Post), he appeals to Betty (Norma Jean Keller) for help. They decide that Grandpa shall masquerade as his own twin sister—who really doesn't exist. Betty enjoys her plot with Grandpa until she, too, is caught and has to masquerade in Grandpa's old clothes and pretends to be ill and ailing grandfather in order to prevent the younger Doctor (Ralph Laux) from making the mistake of eloping with Louise (Pauline Huey), to whom he is engaged. Betty as "Grandpa," persuades the Lawyer (Ray Anderson), to elope with Louise instead and signs a supposed "will" making Louise his heir.

But Clara (Lois Poling) and her everpresent Edgar (Leon Garlinger) discover the plan, so Betty signs another paper making Edgar the guardian. Everything is dandy until the Widow corners Betty, who says "yes" when she means "no" and the widow has good evidence for a breach of promise suit against "Grandpa." Maggie, (Donna Uptygraft) who wants a husband, orders one from a mail-order house.. He turns out to be a Scotchman, Adam McPherson (Norbert Minnich).

Finally, Grandpa and Betty and a dummy they have dressed up to represent "Grandpa" become a few too many for everybody to understand. It is not until both Betty and Grandpa decide that confession is good for the soul that the mess is straightened out. Everything is wonderful as the curtain rolls down. Betty is going to marry Dr. Ralph, Louise is going to marry Mr. Collins, and the Widow is going to marry Adam McPherson.

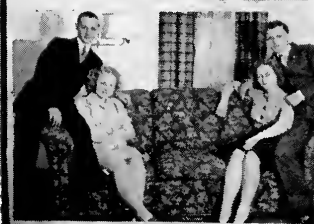

We are very grateful to Mr. Deaton for directing our play.

JUNIOR PLAY OF 1946

"Wild Oats Boy," was presented by this year's Junior Class to a well filled assembly, February 8th and 9th, 1946.

Eddie (Glen Theurer) according to his father's will is supposed to get $50,000 if he is in bed at 8:00 every night for three months. This is very hard for Eddie since he is a fast-stepping night-bird, who frequently neglects to go to bed at all. He undertakes it, however, in the presence of all the family relatives, who are to benefit by the will in case he falls down on the job. Judy (Velma Rittenhouse), his sweetheart, is to inherit the fortune with him, but she has quarreled with him on account of his dissipated habits and he is having a hard time winning her back. With the help of Pat Gilden (Alma Bergman) Eddie makes Judy very jealous. Pat is really in love with Chuck Benton (Gerald Dickson). Eve Martin (Roseann Fifer) a friend of Judy's falls in love with Jake Peters (Keith Stein) who will get the money if Eddie fails to get in at 8:00 providing Judy marries him. The household is really in an uproar when Danny Murphy (Elvan Towell) dressed as a woman is hired as the cook. Della (Joan Myers) falls in love with the cook's brother, who is really Danny. Prue (Maxine Masters) and her pestiferous son, Trout (Marion Logan) are typical country cousins. Aunt Ann (Ruth Poling) keeps the house down to normal. Mose (Ralph Ashcraft), the darky servant, claims he sees Uncle Georg's ghost. Seth (Norman Tullis) turns out to be Uncle George. Eddie and Judy patch up their quarrel and Pat and Chuck get engaged. Danny turns out to be a detective following Jake, who ran away from his wife and baby.

Mr. Schramm did an excellent job of directing their play.

JUNIOR PLAY OF 1945

As Juniors, we laid back our "Sunday" clothes and fine manners to present "The Campbells Are Coming" on March 10 and 11, 1946.

Kaye Brannigan (Donna Uptygraft) returns from a girls' school chock-full of culture. Much to her family's disgust, she breaks with sturdy, dependable Jeff Scudder (Robert Bergman) and announces her engagement to a young snob, Kingston Campbell (Leon Garlinger). Learning that Kingston's aristocratic mother (Alma Bergman) believes that the Brannigans are hillbillies and that Kingston and his mother are coming for a visit to find out the truth, the resourceful Brannigans, under the supervision of Ma (Norma Jean Keller) disguise themselves as hillbillies and receive the guests during the absence of Kaye, who has hastened to a nearby city to purchase everything from caviar to tuxedo, in order to impress the Campbells. Betty Brannigan (Pauline Huey) a sweet, lovable girl of fifteen, appears wild and shy as a rabbit in her role as a hillbilly. Dick Brannigan (Ray Anderson) a good natured guy, is the typical idiotic hillbilly who eats fishworms and fleas! Cyrus Scudder (Norman Campbell) who really wants to marry Ma, poses as Betty's venerable suitor. Catalpa (June Maitlan) is their hillbilly servant who falls for Dick. Her father Bildad Tapp (Norbert Minnich) is a worthless old scamp who brought along the skunk odor.

Kingston finally refuses to marry Kaye. When she walks in, he demands an explanation. After much maneuvering, the Campbells leave the Brannigans. Ma consents to marrying Cyrus and Kaye falls for Jeff.

We appreciate the fine directing given us by Mr. Deaton.

FALL FESTIVAL

Come one! Come all! Games for every member of the family. Yes, we're talking about the annual Fall Festival, which was held October 19, 1945.

As we entered the school building, we were greeted by the Seniors, who were selling Christmas Cards. Next was the refreshment stand, sponsored by Mrs. Ketchum and her home economics classes. Following the crowd, we went downstairs to the Fun House, sponsored by Mr. Schramm and the Junior class. The Bingo Stand was sponsored by Mrs. Burk and Mr. Schramm. The cake walk, turkey raffle, mouse game, and baseball game were sponsored by Mr. Spahr.

JUNIOR and SENIOR RECEPTION 1945

The Juniors entertained the Seniors of '45 at a formal banquet held in the basement of the Lutheran Church on April 17.

After the banquet the classes went to see the movie "Winged Victory."

OUR WORK IN CHEMISTRY

Through the persistent work of Mr. Spahr and willingness of Mr. Spade, Chemistry was introduced to the students of Bryant High School. The entire senior class is becoming familiar with such terms as atoms, molecules, elements, compounds, and formulae. Each Thursday and Friday we have laboratory work and write out our experiments in workbooks. We have had a few accidents, but they have not proved serious.

The Juniors and Seniors Visit Court

The Senior Class was permitted to attend a trial at the Portland Court-house on December 21, 1945. We were quite enthusiastic about this trial because it was a murder trial, the State vs. Percy Wolfe. We witnessed only the final pleas of the attorneys.

Immediately after lunch we visited the jail. This was quite an experience for most of us because it probably was the first visit to a jail.

Before going back to court we also visited the newspaper office. There we saw the teletype machine working, also the press and the stencils used in the printing of pictures in our newspaper.

On January 28th and 29th the senior and junior classes went in a body to another trial in which Fred Chandler was the plaintiff and Paul Kraner, the defendant. We heard the type of questioning the witnesses are given. We also heard how the jury is picked. Since the trial was not over the first day we were given permission to attend the second day. The lawyers gave their final pleas and the judge instructed the jury in their decision.

For the benefit of the juniors, we visited the jail which was being improved with a new paint job. From there we went to the County Home. The head matron took us through the rooms. There were twenty-five people in the home at that time. We all agreed that we never wanted to come to such a place.

Indiana University Here We Come!

On October 27, 1945, two bus loads of Bryant students set out to see the football game between Indiana University and the University of Tulsa at Bloomington. Our first stop was at Indianapolis, where some of us visited the state house.

When we arrived at the stadium at Bloomington Mr. Schramm took moving pictures of us, which turned out to be quite good.

After that it was time for the game to start, so we all settled back to enjoy ourselves. When the game was over Mr. Spahr took us around the campus.

We ate our supper in Martinsville and again resumed our trip. Everything went well until we got to Indianapolis. Boom! Yes, you guessed it. We had a blow-out. The drivers soon had the tire fixed and in no time at all we were in familiar territory, Jay County.

Under the splendid chaperoning of Miss Davis and Mr. Spahr, and the careful driving of Mr. Flauding and Mr. Mumby, we all returned home safely.

Confidentially, Indiana University won the game.

THE BEAUTY OF BEING A TEACHER

You can always tell a barber,
By the way he cuts his hair.
You can always tell a dentist,
When you get in that dentist's chair.
You can always tell a musician,
By his gentle hands and touch,
You can always tell a teacher,
But you cannot tell him much.

We recommend that next fall the heat be turned on the first week of school to dry out the green Freshman.

Norma Jean: "Do you think a girl should love before twenty?"

Fauline: "No, that's too large an audience."

"Every knock is a boost," said Leon, as his Ford pounded up the hill.

Bill Stroube: "Where can I get a good joke for the party tonight?"

Glen Theurer: "Do like me, take a Freshman girl."

Raymond Milligan: "Who can name an important thing we have now, but didn't have fifty years ago?"

Ray Anderson: "Me!"

Norbert: "You must have a wonderful memory to keep all that knowledge in your head."

Bernard: "Yes, I never forget anything when I once get it in my hand."

Norbert: "Well, old man, how about that $1.50 I lent you some time ago?"

Bernard: "Oh, that's different; I put that in my pocket."

Eldon M.: "Am I the only one that has ever kissed you?"

Joann M.: "Why will every man ask that question? Of course you are."

Velma Jean: "I'm losing my hair from worrying."

Lois: "What are you worrying about?"

Velma Jean: "About losing my hair!"

Bill Stroube: "May I go skating, too?"

Ralph Laux: "Certainly not, Bill, it's far too thin."

Bill: "But you are skating."

Ralph: "Yes, but I have my life insured."

Donna U.: "I see by this paper that in certain parts of India a wife can be bought for $2.50. Isn't that awful?"

Raymond: "Well, I don't know. A good wife would be worth that."

Margaret Post: "Name a man who had a great son."

Patsy Spade: "Walt Loy."

Bob Denny: "What shall we do this period?"

James Monroe: "I know, let's flip a coin, head we skip, tails we sleep, if it stands up straight well, heck, we'll study."

If you don't like our jokes
If their dryness makes you groan
Why didn't you come around
With some good ones of your own?

SPORTS

BASEBALL

With wonderful playing by all the boys on the team and excellent coaching by Mike Spahr, the Bryant Baseball Team had one of the best seasons with seven wins and only one loss.

Our first game was with Poling whom we trounced 20-3. We then beat a stubborn Gray nine 5-1. Then Bryant shut out Madison by a score of 15-0. We then vanquished Poling 21-4. Gray came back for a second beating and we gave it to them by a score of 9-5. The Owls then beat Madison again by a score of 11-4. Then came our first defeat of the season by Geneva who beat us 7-2. But the next week we came back at them and won the last game of the season by a score of 9-3.

First Row: Glen Theurer, Verlin Craig, Bruce Poling.
 Second Row: Cledith Loy, James Monroe, Eldon Miller, Eugene Minnich, Raymond Milligan.
 Third Row: Marion Logan, Bill Stroube, Gerald Dickson, Ralph Laux, Norbert Minnich, Mike Spahr, Coach.

BASKETBALL

As truly marvelous was our baseball season, so was our basketball season in the opposite direction. With only one victory, and that over the alumni, the Owls had an off season on the hardwood court. Lack of gym, practice and other things we will not go into detail about, led the Owls to a bad season.

We want to thank our coach, Mike Spahr, for all the time and help he has given us and for his efforts to build a basketball team. We hope, the next time he coaches he will have a place to practice, better material, and a little more cooperation from the boys. So all we can say is thanks, Mike; better luck next time.

FIRST TEAM

First Row: Bernard Post, Student Manager.

Second Row: Eldon Miller, Ray Anderson, Cledith Loy, Glen Theurer, Bruce Poling.

Third Row: Norbert Minnich, Raymond Milligan, Bill Stroube, Gerald Dickson, Ralph Laux.

BASKETBALL

SECOND TEAM

First Row: Eugene Minnich, James Smith, Verlin Craig.

Second Row: Robert Denny, Elvan Towell, Marion Logan, Leon Garlinger, James Monroe.

The Bryant Seconds had a fairly good season with five wins. The Reserves defeated Gray twice 29-8, and 10-9. They beat Jefferson (Adams Co.) 29-15, Kirkland 12-9, and Redkey 19-17. Since most of the second team boys will return, we feel that Bryant will have a good team next year.
